Our community was successful in convincing the county council to vote in favor of placing a cap on the number of vacation rentals that have removed much of the long-term rental housing from our county, driven up real estate prices, and brings increased environmental destruction.

Now it's time to make sure the San Juan County Planning Commission knows that the community finds this action essential.

Please continue to cap the number of vacation rentals and let's work together with finding ways to build more affordable housing. It's the only way our islands will thrive.
